Competition Subjects and the November Competition Stats are posted on the website.

For a full calendar of 2007-2008 events check out the TCCC website, especially the “Calendar” and the “Heads Up” pages.

Ted Post has agreed to accept the position of TCCC Treasurer

We all should thank Howard Nahikian for his years (decades?) of service as our treasurer. No one did the books better, kept our finances up to date, participated in our investments, and management of the building. We should especially appreciate his determined reminders for annual membership renewal each August and September.

Check it out: Visit the St. Joseph Public Library in November

TCCC's year-end winners, honors, and acceptance prints are on display. This is a great location for TCCC to show off its best. Maybe this can be an annual show.

Check this out also: Jim Lynch's show in Buchanan

Jim's show is at the Art Center (which used to be the library building) in Buchanan, for the month of November. Way to go, Jim!

TCCC Program Night, Monday November 26: Ed Post on “My Favorite Places”

My Favorite Places by Ed Post. He writes: “Some places become favorites because of their physical beauty, some because of a special experience that occurred there, and others because they are familiar. This program examines six special locations across the United States that have inspired me.” Come and join us for another wonderful program by Ed Post. Mark this Program Night on your calendar: Monday, November 26, 2007. What are your favorite places? Your editor would start with the Redrock country of southeastern Utah and the Oregon coast, and then think of places like Venice, Italy or Paris, France. And Chicago ain't so bad either!

Welcome to new members:

Les Elwell and Molly Wilkerson of Benton Harbor and Janis Moore of Coloma.

Successful Annual TCCC Banquet on Saturday, November 3, 2007

Fifty-nine people, TCCC members, spouses, and friends, joined in a fine meal of prime rib (with options) and all the trimmings. Dinner was followed by the annual slide show.

Awards were given to the top three photos in annual competition, as well as point winners in all our A and B divisions.

Note: The officers and directors for TCCC have agreed to serve again for 2007-08. They were unanimously re-elected at the competition night meeting on November 12, 2007.
