This is a miniature version of your viewfinder. Your editor, John Opie recently had two major back surgeries in Chicago, now home and starting to get back to normal. John hope you continue to improve and soon be able to attend camera club.

On September 11th at 9:00p.m. Jenni Bush gave birth to a 8 lb 13 oz boy named Stephen Dean Bush. He will soon be entering the club competition.

Bring your entries for the Twin City Camera Club showing at the Box Factory in November. Remember your prints must be matted, framed, and ready to hang. There will be entry cards for information of name, title of print, and dollar amount if you want to sell your print. If not for sale, place NFS. The show will be all the month of November. Open house is being planned, with more details later. Box Factory will charge 20% commission.

Election of officers will soon take place. All of the following have agreed to continue their jobs. Jim Lynch, Gorson Drake, Len Anderson, Don Vander Molen, and Dan Penrod.

October competition is close-ups, smaller than a loaf of bread.

A new long distance record for the number of miles a entry traveled for competition. Colleen Lawrence sent her digital photos from Mexico. Keep them coming Colleen.

Those of you that did not attend out first program of the year really missed an excellent presentation on nature by Dean Pennala. Dean will also be on the program for the SWMCCC fall meet in St Joseph, so you have another chance to see an outstanding photographer present another program.

Don't forget TCCC banquet. TCCC banquet will be held at the St Joseph Elks Club on November 5th, social hour starting at 6:00p.m. and prime rib dinner at 7:15p.m. Members attend Free, 1st guest cost $10.00 and additional guest $18.00. Mail, call, or email your reservations to Ken McKeown, 679 Clemens, St Joseph MI 49085. 429-0608 or mckeownkd@aol.com. Make check payable to TCCC. Send to Ken. Deadline for reservations October must be received by Oct 31st.

SWMCCC fall conference will be held in St Joseph on Nov 11-12. Programs by Jim Thompson and Dean Pennala will be presented at TCCC club house on Sat Nov 12 and banquet at the St Joseph Elks. See your Counsellor for registration form and details.

Judging for SWMCCC at TCCC on Oct 22nd starting at 9:00a.m.
